Hotspot Lending

Made possible through the federal Emergency Connectivity Fund (ECF), Selover Public Library has T-Mobile WiFi Hotspots available to those who lack adequate Internet access. When checked out, the mobile hotspots can be used to get a wireless signal and connect any WiFi-enabled device (such as a laptop, computer, printer, smart TV, or gaming device).

Hotspot Lending Policy

To check out a hotspot, you must:

- Be 18 or older.
- Have a library card in good standing from Selover Library or through the Consortium of Ohio Libraries (COOL).
- Check out only one hotspot per household at a time.
- Sign a borrower's agreement the first time you check out a hotspot, which we will keep on file.
- Be responsible for minors' use of the hotspot, which does not provide content filtering.
- Use the Internet for lawful purposes and in accordance with Selover Library's policies.
- Pay replacement fees for lost, damaged, or stolen devices ($80 for hotspot, $20 for charging cord, $10 case, or $110 total).
- Pay $1/day late fee and any deactivation and reactivation fees resulting from keeping the hotspot past its due date, which will occur after seven (7) library business days.
- Pay a replacement cost of $110 if the hotspot is not returned to the library within fourteen (14) days of the due date.
- Check out and return the device at the circulation desk during Selover Library's open hours, not in the drop box or at another COOL library, which will result in a $10 fine.
- Accept responsibility for any damages, expenses, or data loss resulting from the use of this device, or damages from connection of this device to other devices.

Hotspot Circulation Policies

- Hotspots are checked out for seven days.
- An overdue hotspot will be deactivated. You will be assessed any fees T-Mobile charges to deactivate and reactivate the service.
- No holds or renewals are allowed at this time.
